ID Grand Rounds

Daniel Minter, MD

“Clinical Reasoning in Infectious Diseases”

Tuesday, August 25, 2026

11:00 a.m. – 12:00 p.m.

Zoom Only

Dr. Daniel Minter is an infectious diseases clinician educator at the University of California, San Francisco (UCSF) where he attends on the Transplant ID and General ID consult services as well as internal medicine wards. He is a passionate educator, with roles in the school of medicine as well as the UCSF ID fellowship. His main academic interest is how to improve instruction in clinical reasoning, especially as it relates to advanced subspecialty trainees in infectious diseases. He serves as a section co-editor for the new "Clinical Dilemmas in Infectious Diseases" series in Clinical Infectious Diseases, which seeks to highlight and celebrate how ID clinicians navigate difficult diagnostic and management decisions in everyday practice.
