Appendix G
These items are examples and not intended to be all-inclusive.

Scholarship of Engagement

The University takes an inclusive view of scholarship in the recognition that knowledge is acquired and advanced through discovery, integration, application, and teaching. The Scholarship of Engagement recognizes integrative and applied forms of scholarship that involve cross-cutting collaborations with community partners, broadly defined to include audiences external to the University. It engages faculty in academically relevant work which simultaneously meets campus missions and goals as well as community needs. This type of scholarship puts the academic resources of the university to work in solving pressing public problems, thereby contributing to the public good.

Excellent

- Development of programs that impact health or wellbeing of a group or community
- Development of courses that provide training for faculty, students or the lay public
- Creation of programs that respond to unmet clinical and other service needs while providing opportunity for training
- Creation of health-related programs that are made available to or generated in collaboration with the community
- Contributions of scholarly expertise at the request of non-university audiences on an ad hoc or ongoing basis.
- Development of scholarly resources for the general public that are accessible through print, radio, television, or web media.
- Activities that make research understandable and usable in specific professional and applied settings (e.g. technology transfer activities or development of community based resources).
- Test concepts and processes in real-world settings

Outstanding

- Scholarly reports for government agencies or nongovernmental organizations such as the Institute of Medicine
- Congressional and other types of testimony that brings university-based knowledge to issues related to health
- Non-peer reviewed books or chapters that become reference materials for academic courses
- Administrative roles that are generative in fostering education, research and/or funding for research
- Adoption of program materials by other institutions or groups
- Conducting of public policy analysis for local, state, national, or international governmental agencies and for non-governmental agencies.
- Leadership in bringing diverse stakeholders together to create and implement policies and practices based on scholarship.
- Producing policy documents directed at public entities
- Evaluate programs, policies, or personnel for agencies, using existing evaluation instruments or developing new ones

- Publishing research results or teaching innovations in peer-reviewed journals, practitioner journals, professional journals

Poster and podium presentations accepted at state/regional/national conferences

- Publishing in periodicals or newspapers read by community members

- Disseminating information through other media used by community members, practitioners or policy makers (radio, newsletters, podcasts, etc.)

- Utilizing video, computer or distance programs that reach community

- Presenting at community events

- Co-authoring any of the above with community partners